7th Annual Gerontology Conference

Love is Listening: Re-memorizing Our Communities from the Inside Out

Wednesday, October 22, 2014 · 8:00 am – 4:15 pm
Holy Cross College, Notre Dame, IN

Keynote Speaker: Michael Verde - Founder of Memory Bridge, a nationally recognized non-profit organization dedicated to ending the emotional and social isolation of elders with dementia (memorybridge.org)

Love Is Listening: Healing the Dis-ease of Dementia through “Being With” Care

“Love is Listening” explores the depth of empathetic communication and what is often overlooked in traditional approaches to giving care: how much of the quality of our lives, while grounded in functional needs, depends finally upon the meeting of our relational needs.

Pre-conference seminar for general public

Free - pre-registration required due to limited seating

“There is a Bridge: Caregiving as a Spiritual Practice”

This presentation by Michael Verde will explore giving care as an opportunity for profound transformation for the caregiver who learns how to let go of the illusion of control, let in an awareness of unexpected presence, and let “normal” be an emerging reality.

Breakout Sessions

I would like to attend the following Breakout Sessions (please rank 1 and 2 in order of preference for each Breakout Session; every effort will be made to accommodate your choices):

Breakout Session I: 10:30 – 11:30 am

___ Validation: An Empathetic Technique for Communicating with Those Who Have Dementia

Validation is an innovative, holistic and empathetic method for communicating with disoriented elders, changing the lives of elders, caregivers, and families! Learn how to connect with those who have Alzheimer's type dementia. Be inspired by the stories of Validation workers, caregivers, and families, and how their lives are enriched by this honorable work.

Carrie Gallahan, CFW, Certified Validation Worker, Regional Director, Enlivan Senior Living

___ The Gift of Playfulness

In this presentation, in addition to (or because of) all the fun we will be having, we will be exploring how playfulness can be as much of a coping mechanism as it is a tool for growth, as much of an approach that can bridge differences, distrust and anxiety as an attitude that can help build healing relationships and energize both the caregivers and the people for whom they care.

Bernie DeKoven, MA, American game designer, author, lecturer and fun theorist

___ Grandmother, Grandfather, Earth and Spirit: The Wisdom of Our Ancestors for Modern Times

Join us around the sacred fire as we call in the spirits of our ancestors, and seek their help walking a good path in modern life. Through story, ceremony and visioning we will re-member our lost kinship with all living things, learn the heart path, vision a world for our great grandchildren, and see what it means to become a ritual elder and healer in the world.

Jeff Nixa JD, MDiv., Shamanic practitioner, teacher and writer who has worked as an attorney, hospital chaplain and massage therapist; professional associate with Crows Nest Center for Shamanic Studies USA

___ Keys to Handling Depression and Anxiety

This workshop will address Depression and Anxiety in Older Adults. It will include signs, symptoms, latest advances and methods to treat using interventional psychiatry and medications. A full review of treatment continuum will be covered.

Suhayl Nasr, MD, DLFA, Memorial Hospital of South Bend (Beacon Health System) Memorial Epworth Center, Medical Director, Chairman, Department of Psychiatry

Breakout Session II: 11:40 am – 12:40 pm

___ Bereavement Services: During and After the Caregiving

This session will describe anticipatory grief needs for caregivers and how aligned grief theories guide bereavement support for caregivers after the death of their loved one. The range of available services will be discussed and self-care during caregiving will be reviewed.

Holly Farmer, MA, LMHC, Bereavement Coordinator, Camp Evergreen Director, Center for Hospice Care, Life Transition Center

___ Music and Memory

Music Therapy is an extremely effective treatment for improving the quality of life for individuals with Alzheimer's and other forms of dementia. Music has the power to reach people on an emotional level even in the late stages of dementia. This presentation will focus on ways that music and music therapy interventions can be used to relieve agitation, spark memories, promote social interaction, and encourage creative thinking.

Kathlene Fletcher, MT-BC, Music Therapy Director, Behavior Services & Therapy

___ Retrogenesis: Looking at Alzheimer's Disease Through a Spiritual Lens

Retrogenesis (a term coined by Dr. Barry Reisberg) describes the process of going backward in time and the reverse development characterized by the stages of Alzheimer's disease. This workshop will delve into the concept of retrogenesis and what it teaches about the process of life and death by looking at Alzheimer's disease through a spiritual lens.

Barbara Dzikowski, MS, QDCS, Program Director, Alzheimer's & Dementia Services of Northern Indiana

___ Medicaid and VA Update: How Changes Will Affect You

This session will discuss changes to the eligibility rules for Medicaid and for the VA Aid and Attendance pension, including recent income changes for nursing home Medicaid and proposed gifting penalties for the VA pension.

Jennifer L. VanderVeen, Certified Elder Law Attorney, Tuesley Hall Konopa, LLP

Workshop: Michael Verde

The First Step to Presence-Centered Care: 1:40 – 2:40 pm

Judgment arrests awareness. The more we know—or think we know—the less receptive we are to what remains to be discovered. The most gifted givers of care learn “the art of not knowing,” and it begins with the letting go of judgment. This break-out session will explore what it means to “know less and be aware of more” as part of the practice of caring for people with dementia.

Breakout Session III (*Repeat Sessions): 3:00 – 4:00 pm
